

Too Many Books? Share the Wealth!

If your home is becoming a branch of the local library, it's time to say goodbye to some old friends so others can enjoy them. Many bookstores and libraries will not only take your books, but also take CDs, DVDs and puzzles. Call libraries or go on their website to see their wish list and find out what they will and will not take. If books are musty, water stained, or have pages missing, throw them out. The left column is for Berks County, Pennsylvania residents only.

Book Bonanza

Friends of the Public Libraries
Visit berksbookbonanza.org for current information.

ReUzit on State

Mennonite Central Committee Thrift Shop
1054 S. State Street
Ephrata, PA 17522
717-733-4934; Call for hours

Starr Books/Gently Used Books

1179 Ben Franklin Highway West,
Douglassville, PA 19518
610-385-0766; Call for hours
starrbookstore.com

Goodwill Retail Stores

Locate the Goodwill Store in your area

Cops 'N Kids

Literacy Council of Reading-Berks

35 South Dwight Street, West Lawn
610-670-9960; Call for hours

Other local drop-offs

Thrift stores, local libraries, shelters, retirement homes, Salvation Army, schools and hospitals, used bookstores, and consignment stores. Call locations before dropping off books.

International Book Project

intlbookproject.org
Sending books to orphanages, schools, and churches worldwide.

Prison or Detention Centers

writeaprisoner.com/books-behind-bars
Send books to post requests from prison libraries.

Service Members of Armed Forces

booksforsoldiers.com and operationpaperback.org
Send requested literary care packages.

Websites for book donations

- bringmeabook.org (children)
- iamfoundation.org (children)
- booksforafrica.org (children in Africa)
- littlefreelibrary.org (curbside book exchange)
- betterworldbooks.com (funds literacy initiatives)

Websites for book swap

- paperbackswap.com

Websites for cash for books

- sellmytextbooks.org
- textbookrush.com
- sellbackyourbook.com
- booksintocash.com
- bookfinder.com